Gift and Collection Policy

Materials offered to the Minerva Free Library as gifts will be accepted on the basis that the library is free to keep or discard these materials. If these materials are duplicates of what is in the library's collection or if they are not in keeping with the foregoing statements in selection material, they will be discarded or sold at the library's book sale.

In the case of memorial gifts, the library Director will assist the donor in selecting material suitable as a gift and memorial, when possible.
